

People in Mission Scholarship

2012 Application Form

Statement of purpose:

The People in Mission scholarship/grant from Covenant Presbyterian Church is now presented in two separate components. One of the components is a self-designed global unit that can span a 4-10-week time frame. The local internship is a 10-week component from May 21 until July 27, 2012. May 21 through May 24 will be an orientation week. Local recipients will meet weekly with church staff to process their service in the community through the reading of the gospel of Luke and other applicable readings. This internship is administered by the Global Mission Committee. It is intended to give the recipient the opportunity to serve God and others, and perhaps evaluate a potential career in mission, ministry or mission-related service.

After investigating various short-term service opportunities, both globally, nationally, and locally, discuss the opportunity you have chosen addressing the following (please use an attached sheet of paper):

- Describe in detail the experience that you are proposing for the summer. Where will you go and what will the work consist of? What is the estimated cost? When will you start? What is the expected duration of this experience?
- Discuss your goals for the future. How do you think this experience will benefit you?
- Describe your faith in God and how this experience might help deepen your faith in God.
- What do you hope to gain from this experience?

Recipient Statement of Agreement

- For all local PIM recipients: I will agree to meet weekly with other PIM scholars and staff of Covenant Presbyterian Church. I understand that there will be readings and a study of scripture in addition to a 35+ hour week, and a willingness to grow as an intentional small group faith community.
- Upon completion of my mission experience, I agree to submit a written report/evaluation to the Global Missions Committee. This report will be submitted within a three-week period of my return.
